1.30-2pm King's Head pub

200 years ago a Tealby papermaker called Joshua Gibbons was collecting tunes and writing them into a small pocket-sized manuscript book.

He was a proficient musician and played at local balls, feasts and other events.

We have live and recorded folk music from his special notebook.

Rattlejag Morris are visiting us from Retford. They regularly dance to music from the Tealby tunebook.

We have interesting displays about the church, manuscript, and local papermaking. Paper flowers used to decorate the church have been made by Tealby School children.

Donations appreciated for Tealby All Saints Church tower repairs.
